Population and Human Development Perspectives and Issues

Bhopal, Madhya Pradesh, India

21-23 January 2015

'Shyam' Institute will be organising the XIII Bhopal Seminar 2015: Population and Development: Perspective and Issues from 21 through 23 January 2015. Presentations, discussions and deliberations at the Bhopal Seminar 2015 will be organised around the following sub-themes with a focus on human development:

1. Population structure and ageing
2. Marriage and fertility
3. Survival and health
4. Population distribution and urbanisation
5. Population and poverty
6. Population and productivity

Bhopal Seminar 2015 is directed towards discussion on the linkages between population and human development issues through conceptual as well as empirical perspective. Bhopal Seminar 2015 aims to increase the understanding of population dynamics and human development through evidence-based analytical research. Discussions at Bhopal Seminar 2015 are also expected to contribute to an objective assessment of the current demographic situation and current state of human development.

Participation

Original research papers are invited for presentation at the Bhopal Seminar 2015 on any of the sub-themes and on any other issue related to population and human development. Research papers and comparative studies focussing on Madhya Pradesh are welcome.
